

Do You Remember

Lyrics & music: Clarence B Thunborg

Do you remember me?
Will I see you again?
Fading memories still the heartache remains You laid on my arm, searched for my heart
It feels like yesterday
I made you fall apart
You were my angel
but I was a fool
You could never save me
God knows you tried to

I was a stranger in a foreign land, searching for love
slipping out of my hand
out of my hand

We had so many dreams, all we wanted to achieve
All the things we should try
It was always you and me
You were my angel
but I was a fool

You could never save me
God knows you tried to

I was a stranger in a foreign
land, searching for love
slipping out of my hand
out of my hand

But life intervened, faith was playing with us I can still see your tears, on that damned midnight bus

I was a stranger in a foreign
land, searching for love
slipping out of my hand
out of my hand

I was a stranger in a foreign
land, searching for love
slipping out of my hand
out of my hand